Discuss IT Topic 6: Where is our country headed?

Discuss IT Topic: Over the last week, our country has had growing concerns on immigration bans, border safety, and executive orders that remind us of issues that have been plaguing our country for years. Now that Trump has been elected President, there has been people threatening to blow up the White House, human right protests, and a plethora of other sensitive subject matters that are very compelling to individual groups of people. Why have these issues come up now as we head into a time in which it seems no one is going to be happy with the outcomes? Will this create a split in this country and place citizens against one another when it comes to their views? In your opinion, what other topics are at the forefront of concern? Explain...

Response: Please make sure all grammar, spelling, indentation, and punctuation is correct.

I think that the homeless is a concern that we should all be worried about. For a long period of time in America and also all over the world homeless woman, children, and men have suffered from pain, illnesses, and hunger. Since Mr. Donald Trump became president of the U.S., this concern has been higher than ever. He says that he will bring back more jobs for the U.S. people but by doing this he takes away all the funding for the poor and homeless shelters and businesses. The people must help stop this from happening. If we don't, many innocent homeless families will get ill or probably die. This is why feeding, helping, and caring for the homeless should be are top priority
